ADAM A MYTH?

YES SAY SOME

Inquiry Reappears in Trinity's Question Box and is Answered in Parish Record.

New York, Dec. 26.—All of us may have to mourn the loss of Mr. and Mrs. Adam, the man who may have been a myth and she a myth.

An anxious inquiry comes to the "Question Box" of the Trinity Parish Record, a monthly published by the Episcopal church whose name it bears. It is this: "Do all present day church scholars agree that the story of Adam and Eve is a myth?"

The seeker after truth wishes also to know the name of a good book on this subject. Maybe it would be jersey to tell what that volume is but it might as well be mentioned that it is by Kirkpatrick, who describes the account of our first parents as being far from literal history.

"All present day church scholars," the editor of the Record adds, "do not agree that the story is a myth, but the balance of authority among them is undoubtedly in favor of the position that the story is an allegory."

And so there is the cloven hoof of disinformation showing the shattering of one's ancestry. That eminent theologian Samuel L. Clemens, L.L.D. Olson, wrote bitterly at the grave of Adam because Adam had died with out ever seeing him. It hardly seems possible that such an authority could have grieved at the tomb of the discoverer of sativwood furniture and Angeline Kaufmann, but who knows?

However, the animals of Adam are considered even by those who question them as containing much fundamental instruction.

BOY PLAYING SANTA CLAUS

BURNED BEFORE GUESTS

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Verne Olson, 19, has died of burns received from a Christmas tree while playing Santa Claus for the amusement of his young brothers and sisters. The boy found a roll of cotton in a closet and used the material for a wig and whiskers in making up for Santa Claus. They then lit a candle and rushed into the room where the family guests had assembled. In running about the room the lit candle ignited the cotton and he was fatally burned before the flames could be extinguished.

CHINESE MAY NOW WEAR

QUEUES IF THEY SO DESIRE

Peking, Dec. 26.—At the suggestion of foreign advisers to the government, the forcible amputation of queues has been abandoned. The ministry of the interior had issued instructions to the police of Peking to cut off forcibly the queues of rickshaw coolies. The police were armed with scissors and proceeded to fulfill instructions. The rickshaw coolies banded together and in several instances resisted and injured one or two policemen.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE GUNS

IN FAST SURPRISE ATTACK

Petrograd, Dec. 26.—Two Russian second lieutenants and seven privates made a bold dash for a bivouac of German artillerymen, resting after a day's retreat near Soldan, east Prussia, and captured a ten centimeter mortar. Believing they were attacked in force the Germans fled. The Russians hatched up the German horses and brought the gun into their own lines.
